

SYMPOSIUM – IODINE & PREGNANCY
Thursday 17th March 2016
ROYAL COLLEGE OF OBSTETRICIANS AND GYNAECOLOGISTS
27 Sussex Place, London NW1 4RG

PROGRAMME

12.15	Registration opens
12.45	Lunch
13:55:	Welcome and Introduction:	Professor John Lazarus, Cardiff, Regional Coordinator IGN West & Central Europe
14:00-14:20:	Iodine and the Thyroid	Dr Mark Vanderpump, Royal Free Hospital, London, National Coordinator, IGN, UK
14:20-14:40:	Iodine in Pregnancy	Professor Michael Zimmermann, Professor of Endocrinology, ETH Zurich, Chair, IGN
14:40-15:00:	Iodine in Pregnancy in the UK	Professor Margaret Rayman, Professor of Nutrition, University of Surrey
15:00-15:20:	Guidelines on Thyroid Disease and Pregnancy – An Obstetric Viewpoint	Mr Michael Marsh, Kings College Hospital, London Consultant Obstetrician
15:20-15:40:	Iodine Supplementation - an overview	Professor Kate Jolly, Professor of Public Health, University of Birmingham
15:40-16:10:	TEA/COFFEE
16:10–16:30:	Iodine Nutrition in UK – Is there enough for pregnancy?	Dr Sarah Bath, Guildford, MRC Fellow, University of Surrey
16:30-16:50:	Salt iodination – The Danish experience	Professor Peter Laurberg Professor of Endocrinology Aalborg University, Denmark
16:50–17:10:	EUthyroid – Maternal iodine and offspring neurodevelopment	Dr Tim Korevaar, Research Fellow, Erasmus University, Rotterdam, The Netherlands
17:10-17:30:	Improving the Health of the Population - What do we need to do now?	Professor Simon Smal, Emeritus Professor of Medical Education, Cardiff University
17:30:	Conclusions	Jonathan Gorstein, CEO Iodine Global Network, Seattle, USA
17:40:	Reception	